FOREWORD

The Central Food Technological Research Institute is happy to publish this Directory of Indian Processed Food and Allied Industries. The need for such a publication had been felt over many years, as consolidated information was not available on such matters at any single place giving list of industries in each specialised area, research and development organisations who can assist the industry and the concerned departments of the government. It is hoped this publication will meet such a need to a large extent.

A few thousand letters were addressed to the industrial associations, individual industries, central government departments and state departments of industries and many others. As a result of concerted effort and co-operation given by everyone, the valuable information has been collected and compiled. By no means is it complete in every respect, as the names of those who did not respond in spite of reminders have not been included, yet an overwhelming majority of the industries are covered. It is estimated that the Directory covers between 90 to 95 per cent of the food industries in the country. A section on Food Laws, Regulations and Standards has also been incorporated for ready reference.

The food industry in terms of its volume of production happens to be the largest in the country. Its contribution to the nation's economic progress, efforts to achieve self-sufficiency, raise employment and improve standards of nutrition can hardly be over-emphasised. It is only through a Directory of this type that its magnitude can be realised not only by the industrialists themselves but by research workers and the government departments. We hope the Directory will fulfil this objective.

Many times requests are received from importers of Indian food products abroad asking for names of leading organizations. To collect them every time presents a problem. The Directory is expected to meet the need for such demands also. It will help to earn foreign exchange for the country.

Nearly two years of efforts have gone into the preparation of the Directory. I would like to take this opportunity to thank those who have contributed very significantly towards the compilation of this volume. I must particularly mention Shri S. C. Bhattacharjya, Miss H. N. Malathi, Miss D. Rajalakshmi, Shri P. S. Balakrishnan and Dr. B. L. Amla for collecting and collating the information. Mention is also made of Shri K. R. Sundara Rajan for typing the manuscript and of S/Shri B. A. Seshadri Vasan, K. V. Krishna Murthi and T. S. Ananthanarayana for their typing assistance.

This is only the first edition of this Directory. The Institute would welcome comments and suggestions for further improvements and additional information to be incorporated in the next edition.

SERVICE TO FOOD INDUSTRY—CFTRI'S ROLE

The Central Food Technological Research Institute, Mysore, established in 1950, as one of the National Laboratories under the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, carries out applied and task-oriented research projects to promote optimal utilisation of the available food resources so as to attain quantitative and qualitative self-sufficiency in food, achieve better nutritional standards and contribute to the economic development of the country. The development of modern techniques of storage, preservation, processing, packaging, handling and transportation of foods constitute the major activity of the Institute. Much attention is given to the development of nutritious, supplementary and substitute foods from available raw materials. Research projects are selected after clear identification of the problems and their economic, scientific and technical feasibility.

The fifteen major areas in which the work of the Institute is organized are, Biochemistry & Applied Nutrition; Engineering & Maintenance; Flour Milling & Baking Technology; Fruit & Vegetable Technology; Industrial Research, Consultancy & Extension; Infestation Control & Pesticides; Experiment Stations; Meat, Fish & Poultry Technology; Microbiology, Fermentation Technology & Sanitation; Process Development & Design; Protein Technology; Rice & Pulses Technology; Plantation Products & Flavour Technology; Sensory Evaluation; and Training in the field of Food Science and Technology. The Institute has Experiment Stations at Bombay, Nagpur, Hyderabad, Mangalore, Trichur, Lucknow and Ludhiana which help to identify and solve problems in the field of Food Technology in the region, and also serve as centres of two-way flow of information between research and industry.

Successful laboratory investigations are taken to the pilot plant stage to establish the feasibility for large scale manufacture and assess the economics of production. The Institute has close liaison with the industry for the utilisation of food science and technology for industrial development.

Of forty processes, techniques and products so far released by the Institute to eighty two firms, thirty have gone into commercial production, while production of a few more is expected to start shortly. The Institute helps the entrepreneurs and food processors in their day-to-day problems in respect of product development, operational difficulties and in the introduction of new products through consultancy services such as supply of complete project reports and industrial design data, advice on types of equipment to be used and assistance in the planning and execution of projects. Products are prepared for market studies and consumer evaluation, when required, there-by offering entrepreneurs a useful service. The Institute also assists and offers advice to the Government and various other national agencies in formulating policies with regard to handling, storage and transportation of food grains and perishable food commodities. The Institute acts as consultant to manufacturing concerns and Government organisations. It often secures the participation of industry in task-oriented research projects and thus enabling speedy utilisation of research results.

Complete survey and project engineering reports are prepared and supplied to industrial organisations. In the last eight years 38 such project reports have been given out to set up new food processing units particularly in the small scale sector. Through frequent visits to manufacturing units and discussions with their Managers, the specialists of the Institute analyse and identify their problems and where necessary, carry out further studies to find out solutions. The Institute pays special attention to the communication of research information to the industry and other users. A large number of enquiries from the industry on various technical problems are regularly handled (Nearly four thousand enquiries were answered by the Institute in 1971). The economic value of such a service is immense as is observed from the increasing interest of the industry in securing such service of the Institute to solve their technological and operational problems.

Among other facilities offered for the development of industry are testing, analysis and standardisation of products for the industry, Government and other organisations. Several thousand samples of fruit and vegetable products manufactured in the country are analysed every year to ensure that they comply with the standards laid down in the Fruit Products Order of the Government of India. The Institute plays a special role in the work of laying down national standards for food and allied products.

The Institute has, very well developed training and educational facilities to meet the needs of the industry and Government departments and also serves as an International Food Technology Training Centre for the countries in South-East Asian region.

All these efforts help to establish a useful rapport between research and industry and thus assist in the development of processed food industries in the country on proper scientific and technological lines.

The tragedy is not that they weep but that they can smile.

The Indian diet is notoriously short of protein. Children (and we have 100 million under the age of 7) are worst affected. Protein malnutrition retards physical growth and lowers resistance to disease. It leads to the laziness and apathy of certain groups once ascribed to 'ethnic' or 'geographic' factors. Worse still, protein deficiency in children has been found to retard mental development—perhaps irreversibly. This is the emergency which casts its shadow upon us all, on our national goals, on the future of our children. To face up to this challenge, the Protein Foods Association has been formed. The Association is concerned with fortifying foods and gathering data to encourage manufacture. It liaises with Govt. to accelerate the development of protein foods. It has plans for a major educational and mass communications programme. It is involved in process development and technological studies. All the leading members of the food, chemical, pharmaceutical and packaging industries are members of the Protein Foods Association. There is enough for everybody to do in this emergency. For more information please write to The Executive Secretary, Protein Foods Association of India, Mahalaxmi Chambers, 22 Bhulabhai Desai Rd., Bombay 26.

INDIA FOILS — THE INNOVATORS FOIL PACKAGING TO PRESERVE FOOD

ESSENTIAL FOR A RS. 500 CRORE INDUSTRY

Now, more than ever before, it is vital to protect and preserve the food products of our Country. Processing and packaging vegetables, fruits and dairy products ensure year round availability of seasonal products in much greater volume to many more people—wastage is reduced to the minimum.

India Foils and its Overseas Associates exchange techniques and know-how to evolve and manufacture in India, a range of scientifically tested Aluminium Foil laminates for the packaging, preservation and distribution of the Nation's agricultural and processed food products.

With Al Foil as a component of the packaging material, unit packs of processed foods retain the finest flavours, preserve the vitamin and protein content and maintain the inherent goodness.

Foil for Defence : India Foils was the first to experiment with and innovate a package to keep food fresh and wholesome at high altitudes for our Jawans on remote Himalayan outposts.

The Company also manufactures moisture vapour barrier packing materials to pack and preserve ammunition, electronic equipment and vital mechanical and electrical spares and components for defence equipment.

Foil for Electrical Industry : India's economy relies heavily on the electrical industry. Each year India Foils supplies 1,20,000 Km. of precision rolled foil for use in Telephones, Radio Telephones, Wireless and Walkie-Talkie equipment. A vital component in each is the capacitor with aluminium foil.

Foil Packaging for the Pharmaceutical Industry : India Foils supplies a wide range of packaging material indispensable to the pharmaceutical industry in the country. This includes heat-seal strip pack for more than 1,200 million tablets and vial cap strip to preserve 150 million vials of antibiotics.

Foil for Tea : Tea, the second largest export earner needs foil for protection. Each year India Foils supplies enough aluminium foil for tea chest lining to protect and preserve over 330 million Kg. of tea.

POYSHA INTRODUCES THE
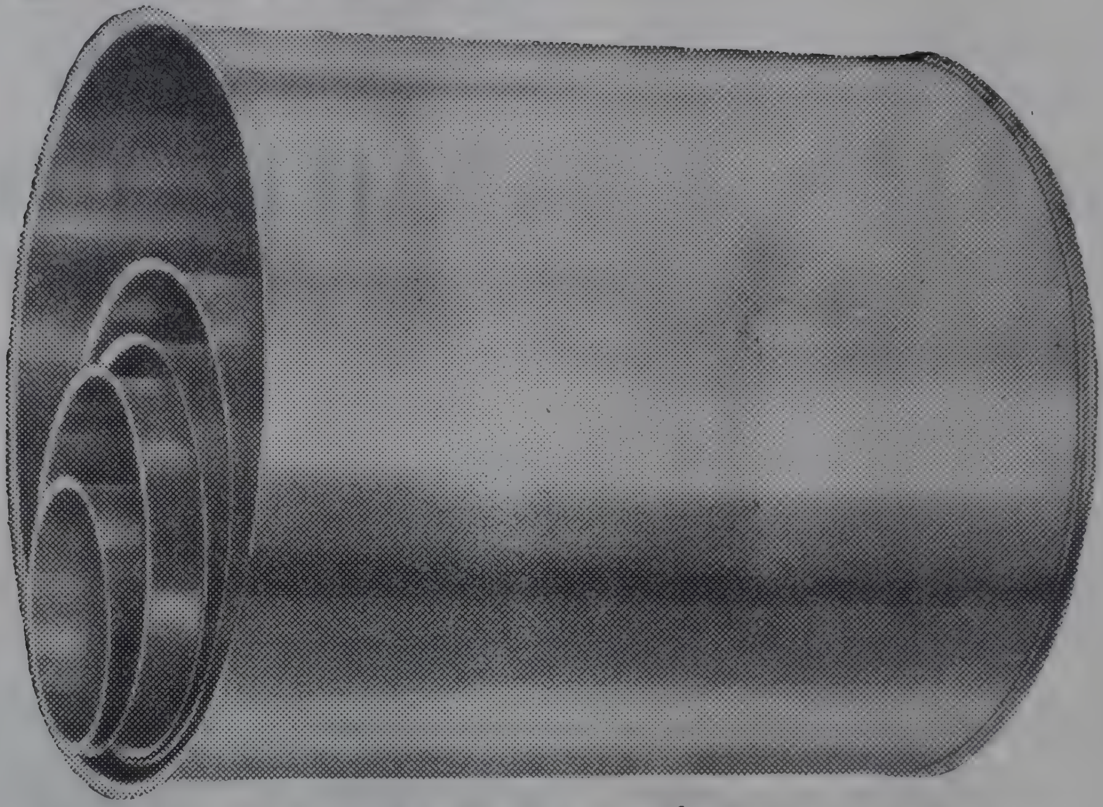
BIG ONE



First in 1962 with tiny '5½ oz.' cans, first again with big A10 cans for economy and export

For the first time in India, Poysha brings you the A10 can. This means that now Poysha offers a comprehensive range of open top sanitary cans—the only container makers in the country to do so.

Made to international standards, the new A10 cans have a capacity about 30% more than the largest open top sanitary cans at present available. They offer food processors a more economical way to store vegetables, fruits, fruit pulp, fruit juice and the like and supply them to hotels, restaurants and canteens. Exporters of food products too, will find these cans of great advantage.

POYSHA lowers costs through better technology!

shall be guilty of an offence under this Act and shall be punishable for such offence with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

11. Procedure to be followed by food inspectors

(1) When a food inspector takes a sample of food for analysis, he shall—

(b) except in special cases provided by rules under this Act separate the sample then and there into three parts and mark and seal or fasten up each part in such a manner as its nature permits: and

(c) (i) deliver one of the parts to the person from whom the sample has been taken;

(ii) send another part for analysis to the public analyst; and

(iii) retain the third part for production in case any legal proceedings are taken or for analysis by the Director of the Central Food Laboratory under sub-section (2) of section 13, as the case may be.

(2) If the person from whom the sample has been taken, declines to accept one of the parts, the food inspector shall send intimation to the public analyst of such refusal and thereupon the public analyst receiving a sample for analysis shall divide it into two parts and shall seal or fasten up one of those parts and shall cause it, either upon receipt of the sample or when he delivers his report, to be delivered to the food inspector who shall retain it for production in case legal proceedings are taken.

(3) When a sample of any article of food is taken under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) of section 10, the food inspector shall send a sample of it in accordance with the rules prescribed for sampling to the public analyst for the local area concerned.

(4) An article of food seized under sub-section (4) of section 10, shall be produced before a magistrate as soon as possible;

Provided that in the case of any article of which samples have been sent to the public analyst for analysis it may be produced on or after the receipt of the report of the public analyst:

Provided further that if an application is made to the magistrate in this behalf by the person from whom any article of food has been seized, the magistrate shall by order in writing direct the food inspector to produce such article before him within such time as may be specified in the order.

(5) If it appears to the magistrate on taking such evidence as he may deem necessary that the article of food produced before him under sub-section (4) is adulterated, he may order it:

(a) to be forfeited to the local authority, or

(b) to be destroyed at the cost of the owner or the person from whom it was seized so as to prevent its being used as human food, or (c) to be so disposed of as to prevent its being again exposed for sale or used for food under its deceptive name, or

(d) to be returned back to the owner for being sold under its appropriate name, after taking adequate guarantee from the owner.

(6) If it appears to the magistrate that any such article of food is not adulterated, the person from whose possession the article was taken shall be entitled to have it restored to him and it shall be in the discretion of the magistrate to award such person from such fund as the State Government may direct in this behalf, such compensation not exceeding the actual loss which he has sustained as the magistrate may think proper.

12. Purchaser may have food analysed

Nothing contained in this Act shall be held to prevent a purchaser of any article of food other than a food inspector from having such article analysed by the public analyst on payment of such fees as may be prescribed and from receiving from the public analyst a report of this analysis:

Provided that such purchaser shall inform the vendor at the time of purchase of his intention to have such article so analysed:

Provided further that the provisions of sub-section (1), sub-section (2) and sub-section (3) of section 11 shall, as far as may be, apply to a purchaser of article of food who intends to have such article so analysed, as they apply to a food inspector who takes a sample of food for analysis:

Provided also that if the report of the public analyst shows that the article of food is adulterated, the purchaser shall be entitled to get refund of the fees paid by him under this section.

13. Report of public analyst

(1) The public analyst shall deliver, in such form as may be prescribed, a report to the food inspector of the result of the analysis of any article of food submitted to him for analysis.

(2) After the institution of a prosecution under this Act the accused vendor or the complainant may, on payment of the prescribed fee, make an application to the court for sending the part of the sample mentioned in sub-clause (i) or sub-clause (iii) of clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 11 to the Director of the Central Food Laboratory for a certificate; and on receipt of the application the court shall first ascertain that the mark and seal or fastening as provided in clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 11 are intact and may then despatch the part of the sample under its own seal to the Director of the Central Food Laboratory who shall thereupon send a certificate to the court in the prescribed form within one month from the date of receipt of the sample, specifying the result of his analysis.

(3) The certificate issued by the Director of the Central Food Laboratory under sub-section (2) shall supersede the report given by the public analyst under sub-section (1).

(4) Where a certificate obtained from the Director of the Central Food Laboratory under sub-section (2) is produced in any proceeding under this Act, or under sections 272 to 276 of the Indian Penal Code, it shall not be necessary in such proceeding to produce any part of the sample of food taken for analysis.

(5) Any document purporting to be a report signed by a public analyst, unless it has been superseded under sub-section (3), or any document purporting to be a certificate signed by the Director of the Central Food Laboratory, may be used as evidence of the facts stated therein in any proceeding under this Act or under sections 272 to 276 of the Indian Penal Code:

Provided that any document purporting to be a certificate signed by the Director of the Central Food Laboratory shall be final and conclusive evidence of the facts stated therein.

MISCELLANEOUS

Since 1933

have served the Indian Food Processing Industry from the times it was still in a stage of infancy. The Industry has grown year after year and so have the activities of Gardners.

To begin with, only imported equipment was distributed by them but as the imports became difficult, they also commenced fabrication of machines. Starting with simple machines like Hand Cone Juicer, Basket Press, Table Crowner and Retort they gradually went with more intricate ones like Pulper, Steam Kettle, Vacuum Filler Exhauster, and now the more SOPHISTICATED equipment such as Automatic Can Washer-cum Sterilizer, Crowner with Automatic Cork feed, Screw Conveyor Blancher, Motorised Fruit Mill, Juice Pasteurisation Bell, Hydraulic Press and Filterpress which enable the progressive Industry to expand production without having to make tiresome efforts to import from outside and wait for years together to achieve the goal.

13.2 AGMARK STANDARDS

The Directorate of Marketing and Inspection in the Ministry of Agriculture (Department of Agriculture), Government of India, is engaged inter-alia in drawing-up standards under the 'AGMARK' scheme. With a view to ensuring the purity and quality of goods purchased by the consumers, grading under 'AGMARK' scheme on voluntary basis is being carried out for some selected commodities such as:

- ★ Edible Vegetable Oils
- ★ Ghee
- ★ Creamery butter
- ★ Eggs
- ★ Wheat atta
- ★ Gur
- ★ Rice
- ★ Table potatoes
- ★ Fruits
- ★ Arecanuts etc.

In case of some exportable commodities, grading under 'AGMARK' scheme has, however, been made compulsory. The commodities that are graded on compulsory basis for export are—

- ★ Chillies
- ★ Black Pepper
- ★ Cardamom
- ★ Walnuts and
- ★ Other non-food items.

The details of such 'AGMARK' standards can be obtained from the Agricultural Marketing Adviser to the Government of India, P.O. Faridabad, Haryana.

Quality is the key-note to Industrial Progress

Standardization of Quality will tone up Nation's Economy and boost Exports

Take Advantage of Indian Standards and Specifications drawn by Various Organizations

Who's fussy about Sealing? Nuts are.

And just as well too. When a nut goes snap at your fingers, you're sure nobody's got at the product before you. The closed pod is pilferproof. Impossible to replace in its original form. It's the same with roll-on-pilferproof (R.O.P.P.) seals made by Alu Capsules Limited. They keep bottled products intact just for you. Yet they open so easily; leave no sharp edges. All you do is turn the seal. "Click" it goes and you know nobody's got at the product before you. It's as safe and simple as that. No wonder leading manufacturers like Pfizer, Bayer, Geoffrey Manners, Abbott Laboratories…use R.O.P.P. seals.
